WITHOUT its plum pudding Christmas would not seem Christmas in many households.

Tradition has much to do with the perpetuity of a pudding of this sort for Christmas, and, whether it is headed in by a neat maid in cap and apron, by a stately butler in livery or by the unpretentious housewife herself, it should not appear on the table until it is time to see it.

Place the pudding on a generous platter, decorate it with bits of holly and dress with a good sauce, which should be in a separate dish.

As the pudding improves with age, it may, like fruit cake, be prepared in advance.

To keep it fresh until Christmas wrap in oiled paper and keep in a tin which has a tight fitting lid.

Then the pudding need only be warmed up when sent to the table.

How to Make the Pudding.

If you intend to make a boiled pudding see that all molds and basins required are perfectly dry before greasing them and then use good butter for the purpose. Take care that the molds are fitted to the top with the mixture and that it is pressed well down. Have clean pudding cloths. Dip them in boiling water and flour them before using over and allow for swelling.

Let the water be bubbling vigorously before putting the molds in it. See that the water covers them.

As it evaporates in boiling add more boiling water so as not to check the cooking, which must go on steadily all the time.

Plum puddings, properly made and boiled, will keep at least a year if hung in a cool, dry place.

When Baking the Pudding.

If you prefer to bake the pudding take one and a half cupsful of beef suet free from skin and chopped fine, one and a half cupsful of raisins stoned, one and a half cupsful of currants which have been washed and picked over, one cupful of brown sugar, two cupsful of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, four eggs, one cupful of milk, half a cupful of citron cut in very small pieces, a pinch of salt, half a grated nutmeg and one glassful of orange juice.

Put all these ingredients in a deep bowl, adding the eggs just as they drop from the shell, flour and baking powder sifted together and, lastly, the orange juice.

Mix into a batter which should be very short. Pour into cake tins which have been liberally buttered and bake in a steady, even oven for two hours. Serve with a lemon or vanilla sauce.

English Plum Pudding.

For a rich old fashioned plum pudding take eight eggs, one pound of best butter, one pound of flour, one pound of currants, one pound of seeded raisins, one pound of sliced citron, one pint of milk, a small loaf of bread, half a teaspoonful of ground mace, half a teaspoonful of cinnamon and a pinch of salt.

Break the bread in small pieces and crumble it in the milk, add the beaten eggs, the creamed butter, then the fruit well floured. Grease a cloth, put a large plate in the middle of it and heap the pudding on the plate. Then tie it up securely, but leave plenty of room for the pudding to swell. Boil for three hours, adding more water from time to time if necessary.

Serve with a sauce of butter, creamed with sugar and flavored with nutmeg and lemon juice. When ready to serve stick almonds all over the pudding, first blanching the almonds. Make a little hole in the top of the pudding and pour half a pint of brandy over it and serve blazing.

A Cheap Pudding.

What could be more economical than this pudding. Mix together one and a half cupsful of flour, one cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of grated suet, one cupful of seeded raisins, one cupful of cleaned currants or chopped prunes, one cupful of grated carrot, one cupful of grated potato, one-quarter of a cupful of minced orange peel, nutmeg, cinnamon and clove to taste.

To make the sauce beat together one tablespoonful of cornstarch, two tablespoonfuls of butter and one-half cupful of brown sugar. Set on the stove until heated, then turn in hot water, a little at a time, and cook until the consistency required. Add four tablespoonfuls of grape or apple jelly, with spices or flavoring to taste, and serve hot.

BODY

Of Miss Viola Hall Will Be Taken to Former Home for Burial.

Funeral services over the body of Miss Viola Hall, who died Saturday night in a local hospital after a short illness of apoplexy and paralysis will be held at the home of her brother, Alec P. Hall, 141 West Pike street, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Charles B. Mitchell, rector of Christ Episcopal church, will conduct the services. The body will be taken to Brookville, Pa., her former home, where the burial will take place Tuesday.

Miss Hall was stricken Saturday morning while at work in the Towns department store on Main street, and never regained consciousness until death relieved her sufferings Saturday night.

The deceased woman is a sister of Alec P. Hall with whom she has made her home the last four years since she came to this city from Brookville. Miss Hall had a large circle of friends who were shocked to hear of her death as they were unaware of her illness.

Among the many floral tributes were beautiful pieces sent by the members of the Cadencia orchestra and the local musicians' union.

FUNERAL

Of Elus Bartos Who Was Drowned Sunday Held at Home Today.

The funeral services over the body of Elus Bartos, aged four and one-half years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartos, of Perry Mine, who was drowned Sunday afternoon in a mine cave-in on a hill-side near her home, was held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the family home. The Rev. Henry T. McClelland conducted the services. The burial was in the Greenlawn cemetery.

Shortly after the dinner hour Sunday the Bartos girl and a small mute child who lives near the Bartos home went out on the hillside to play. After throwing several stones on the thin layer of ice covering the cave-in, the small girl ventured out on it. The ice was thick enough to bear her weight around the edges but when she went to cross to the other side, the ice broke and she fell through. The mute ran to her home and being unable to tell Mrs. Bartos what happened, he caught hold of her clothing and pulled her up to the pond and showed her the hole in the ice. Mrs. Bartos called her husband who broke away the ice and got the child's body out and took it to their home.

The bargain-hunting joke, almost outlawed nowadays, once flourished amazingly with our joke-smiths. It is pretty well understood now, that the "joke," such as it is, is on the wage-earner of the family in which the buyer of his hard-earned money, is left a RAGGAM-JANGLE, and thus a reminder of the "joke" is made.
